*Youth Group for all youth in grades 5-12, 5:30-8pm.

Looking ahead in September:

*Thursday, September 13: Not a Bible Study resumes;

*Saturday, September 15: Back to School BBQ 12:30-3:30 at St. James;

*Saturday, September 15: Burry Heights Day; see posters! Purchase tickets for the dinner theatre at 754-8824;

*Sunday, September 16: Terry Fox walk with our youth group. You are all invited to walk along with them! If you are interested in joining or sponsoring the team, or just making a donation, please talk with Katelyn Mayo, Hannah Sheppard, or any members of the youth group!

*Monday, September 17: Weekly Sewing Studio opens: 3-5pm.

*Sunday, September 23: The second annual Diversity Fair will take place after the service, from 12-2! St. James is a diverse community that welcomes all and promotes inclusion. Building off our commitment as part of Affirm United, our diversity committee works to promote inclusion of all persons in our community as an acknowledgement that every individual is equal and important to our mission. Every fall we organize a Diversity Fair, which this year is scheduled for September 23. As with anything, many hands make light work, so we are asking for assistance in making our event a success. If you are willing to lend your time and talent for this event, please let SuAn know and we'll be in touch.

Mercy Centre for Ecology and Justice is sponsoring:

*Inter-denominational Bon Fire on Middle Cove Beach, September 21 at 7pm;

*Reflection on Water event scheduled for Bowring Park, September 30 at 2pm.

You are invited to take time during the Season of Creation (September 1 – October 4) to become more aware of the beauty and importance of the natural world in our lives as well as for the obligation we have to preserve it.

Minutes for Mission: Our gifts for M&S support Indigenous ministries in downtown Toronto, where the urban Aboriginal population has increased dramatically. Toronto Urban Native Ministry (TUNM) has a heart for Indigenous people living on the margins of city life, reaching out to those in precarious life situations: on the streets, in prison, shelters, hostels and hospitals. An Ecumenical organization that integrates Christian and Aboriginal spirituality, TUNM provides counselling and spiritual care as well as referral to community services. It offers everything from spiritual mentorship to sharing circles for those Indigenous people who were taken from their families and place with predominately white foster homes from 1960-1980. Services on Sunday morning offer an opportunity for Aboriginal Christians worship. This is a time of story-telling, sharing of a meal, or activity led by an Indigenous Anglican priest or UCC minister. The services are diverse and responsive rather than liturgically sequential. Sacred gatherings like these offer connection and healing while honouring the Creator in all of creation. For urban Indigenous people living off reserve, they fill a vital need for spiritual and cultural community. Loving our neighbour is the heart of our M&S.
